Blog post: Alternative solutions during the Covid-19 outbreak

We are bridging the “Röstigraben” even in times marked by the corona virus, offering creative solutions for multilingual cooperation.

Why not invite a translator to your next Skype meeting or have a conference call interpreted? Or do you need support in translating important information or documents?

We at AVL believe that it is precisely now when we should not give up on national and international cooperation and this is why we are very happy to support you. Exceptional circumstances call for exceptional measures – let’s implement them together.

Sincerely,
